

Antiqua Guliker GmbH, established in 1980, has been producing dispensing towers for any taste for many years.

Whether it is a brewery, a hotel, a bar, a coffee house or a bistro – the counter and dispensing tower are the centrepiece of every catering facility. They emphasise the ambience of individually-designed interiors and fit seamlessly into the particular style desired. Modern, dignified elegance or country-style – dispensing towers from Antiqua offer a balanced diversity in terms of material and design.

For many years, the products have been held in high esteem by leading national and international brewers, by the trade and also by service providers in the field of dispensing technology.

Customers benefit from a high product quality, short delivery times, competent advice and flexibility in execution.

As production is in-house, the supplier is always willing to take account of customer requests and produces dispensing towers according to requirements and specifications.

Whether customers prefer copper towers for a Brauhaus atmosphere or modern stainless steel towers with a multiplicity of surfaces, Antiqua has the right solution. There are practically no limits in terms of dimensions and sizes of dispensing towers and the number of lines.

Antiqua Guliker GmbH is looking forward to welcoming you at BrauBeviale on the company's booth.
